SPECIAL THANKS

To the Genealogical Society of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Salt Lake City, Utah, whose initiative in microfilming early records of the United States and Europe have been so beneficial and who generously permitted the compiler to purchase a set of microfilms of these deeds, making it possible to abstract them.

To the staff and printers of Mayhill Publications for patience and help in reducing the errors to a minimum.

To Mrs. Margaret Sparks for her attentive deletion of the addenda to the first printing and her diligent editing of the text and index of this second printing to make it more condensed and more useful for searchers.

To the Lancaster County Historical Society and J.W. Loose for permission to use the maps prepared by Mr. Loose.

Finally, to my wife and family, whose understanding and patience have been so important in the countless hours required to complete the work.

LANCASTER COUNTY RECORDER OF DEEDS, Lancaster, Pa.

Send self-addressed stamped envelope and 50¢ per page deposit, or write for quote. In this book a "b" has been added to a page number when indexing a second deed on a page. When ordering a deed from the County Recorder the "b" should be omitted, but be sure and order the entire deed beginning on the page shown. State the name of grantor and grantee.

While only one of several useful original genealogical research sources, the recorded deeds of a county answer many questions of family relationships, residences, and economic conditions of a pioneer family.

The purpose of this work is intended to broaden the grantor-grantee indices, normally used to find the buyers and sellers of real estate. The intent is to help searchers quickly locate adjoining landowners, as well as all heirs, names in the early chain of deeds, and witnesses, and locate many "lost" persons from deeds never recorded anywhere.

The use of surveys by metes and bounds in Pennsylvania contributes to the genealogical value of the deeds in this state. Because this survey method did not employ permanent markers, it was best to identify adjoining owners. Since many deeds were not recorded, most early Pennsylvania deeds briefly reviewed the deed chain from the time of the proprietary warrant, giving dates, names and relationships. (In the "public land" states, congressional survey deeds are generally very short, and do not normally list former owners).

During the colonial period in Pennsylvania, the deed and probate records are the primary courthouse research records. Court records are, of course, useful, but Pennsylvania was one of the last states to require the recording of marriages (1882).

Those using this book should especially study adjoining owners, even though misspelling was common by the recorder or lawyer who often spelled names phonetically, but spelling was fairly accurate for grantors and grantees.

Oaths of Allegiance: Included in this edition are hitherto unpublished oaths of allegiance for Lancaster County, required during the Revolutionary War by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The loyalty oaths were subscribed, beginning in 1778 and until the end of the War. During this compilation these oaths were found at the end of Book "L", a ledger used only until 1769 and which had sufficient unused pages for this purpose. The shortage of paper during the war probably forced the economical use of the earlier record book. Unfortunately, only the typed version is extant. Extensive efforts to locate the original lists in the original Book "L" were fruitless as the pages had been ripped out of the book. No one at the Lancaster County Historical Society could locate the original list, nor had anyone even been aware of it, because it was in such a well-hidden location.

Since the publication of the first printing of this work, another set of the oaths has been found, published in 1887 in Vol. XIII, Second Series, Pennsylvania Archives, but this list has only oaths between 1777 and 1779. Those recorded in Deed Book "L" go well beyond that. Details of the difference are found on page 149 of this work.

A few recorded German witness signatures are impossible to translate, and the compiler consulted experts on German script on some of the more difficult, without success. It is believed the British recorder did not always make an accurate copy of the German script from the original document because of handwriting illegibility. In this book, such signatures are copied as they appear in German, even though they are obviously not correct names. As nearly as possible, spelling is exactly as it appears in the recorder's book. Those books, however, which were abstracted from type-written copies of the original recordings, will, of course, have a larger percentage of copying errors.

The type of copy, whether typewritten or original writing, on the microfilm is shown herein at the beginning of each deed book. These entries have been checked and proof-read several times. In a complex compilation, however, some, perhaps many, errors of omission or commission will occur. Even though there is no substitute for the accuracy of original documents, these abstracts of the recorded deeds hopefully will locate hidden names, despite copyist errors.

Many deeds are recorded years after they were written, some as many as 100 years later. On the other hand, many deeds for Lancaster County, prior to and during the early years of the county's existence, were recorded in Chester and Philadelphia Counties. Various reasons for non-recording may be given: loss by fire or Indian ravages; obstacles to travel to record low-cost deeds; deeds to close relatives in no danger of challenge, plus procrastination.

A copy of any deed may be obtained from the County Recorder's Office, Lancaster, Pa. Current fees will be found by inquiry. In 1978, the fee for photo-copying is 50 cents per page.

A note about mortgages: If the mortgagee is from Philadelphia, the witnesses and justices are also likely to be from Philadelphia as the mortgage was probably written there. In a mortgage, the forfeiture was double the amount of the debt. A person who didn't pay his debts was often also incarcerated. The famous Manheim ironmaster and glass-maker of Lancaster County, Henry William Stiegle, for example, was bankrupted and imprisoned after joining some Philadelphia speculators.

About the compiler — R. Thomas Mayhill was born April 18, 1917, in Delphi, Indiana, the son of Bert B. and Dora T. Mayhill. Bert B. was a newspaper editor and Dora T. a historical author. A graduate of the University of Illinois School of Journalism, the compiler was managing editor of The Daily Illini in 1939-40. After serving as an investigator for American Institute of Public Opinion, (Dr. George Gallup), the compiler served in World War II, reaching the rank of Lieutenant, U.S.N.R. Editor and publisher of newspapers and periodicals at Knightstown, Indiana, since 1946, he is married to the former Margaret Ann Kreisle of Tell City, Indiana. They have four children.

This book completes abstracts and indices to all indentures in Deed Books "A" through "M". Most of the indentures are in 1770 or earlier, during the colonial era, but the deed books were not continuously written, and several deeds prior to 1770 were recorded in later deed ledgers. Lancaster Borough was at that time the largest inland city in the American Colonies.

Book and Page numbers are used in indexing entries in each deed. The first page of the deed is listed, but where more than one deed is started on a page, the second deed is shown as "b". The abstract shows the date the deed was written and the recording date.

Abbreviations are often used, and the key to abbreviations on Page 1 should be consulted.

Lancaster County was erected in 1729 from Chester County; and the formation years of descendant counties are: York, 1749; Cumberland, 1750; Berks, 1752; Bedford from Cumberland, 1771; Northumberland (part), 1772; Franklin from Cumberland, 1784; Dauphin, 1785; and Lebanon, 1813. Schuylkill was formed from Berks and Northampton in 1811, Adams from York in 1800, Mifflin from Cumberland and Northampton in 1789; Perry from Cumberland in 1820; Juniata from Mifflin in 1830.

Proprietary patents in colonial Pennsylvania were not deeds of complete title as we know them, but were actually leases of enfeoffment written by the proprietors of Pennsylvania, William Penn and, later, his sons. In the earliest patents, the lessee agreed to pay an annual quit rent to the Penns of one shilling per 100 acres. In leases written after about 1742, granted deeds increased land rent to ½ shilling per acre.

In some mortgages, the mortgagor obtained the property over a period of years as long as he paid off the contract principal and interest. In others, the mortgagor acquired the property but simultaneously mortgaged it to the money lender or land speculator, and it actually did not become his property until he had satisfied the conditions of mortgage. Acknowledgment of satisfaction is shown in this work by the abbreviation "sat. ack," together with date.

Fractions of an acre are not always transcribed. All spellings of the same name are grouped in the index, with residence, and then cross-indexed.

Sometimes, before the change in 1752 from the Julian to the Gregorian calendar, the year in the first two months is shown as, for example, 1746/7. Also the early part of March carried the dual years. February in those early days was the 12th month of the year. March was the first month of the year until 1752, but 11 days had been lost in the Julian calendar because of a miscalculation of Leap Years. In 1752, the calendar was changed to its present form and 11 days were skipped in September 1752 in order to adjust for prior errors, with January becoming the first month of the year.

The wife is always shown, for example, "w. Mary," and if not shown thus, the reader cannot assume that this was the man's wife. It should be a sister. Moreover, if no woman's name is shown with a grantor or mortgagor, one can generally assume that the man was unmarried or widowed, because Pennsylvania commonwealth statutes, like most states, required a spouse to sign if there was one, even if the title had never shown the spouse's name.

LEGAL AGE — The legal age for both men and women to subscribe to an oath in granting a deed was 21 years. Hence, if in a deed grant the wife was under 21, she may be shown as a grantor, but was not supposed to attest to a signature, until she reached 21.

WILL DATE — The date of a will does not mean the date entered for probate, but the date it was written. Consult the will recordings when probate date isn't specified.

GENERAL LOAN OFFICE — Many immigrants of colonial Pennsylvania purchased land on security contracts with the General Loan Office of Pennsylvania. When such a loan is mentioned, further details may be found in the original ledgers of the General Loan Office, at the Philadelphia City Archives, Pennsylvania.

WARRANTS AND SURVEYS — It was not required to record warrants and surveys. In 1759, however, a special act was passed by the General Assembly to record as many such documents as could be located. Even though the Crown vetoed the bill three years later, many warrants and surveys were recorded and many of these are now at the Philadelphia City Archives or at the Pennsylvania General Land Office, Harrisburg.

CHRISTIAN NAMES — German parents often used a baptismal name, together with the Christian name for both sons and daughters. Rarely did 18th Century parents give middle names to children. When a name, such as Eva Marie, Anna Elizabeth, Hans George or John Jacob, was used, the names Eva, Anna, Hans and John were not Christian names, but were baptismal names and often all children in a family would be given the same baptismal name. Likewise, the names Maria, Elizabeth, George and Jacob (above) were not middle names, but were the Christian names used with or without the baptismal name. Hence, Hans Jacob Myers and Jacob Myers could be the same man, as the baptismal name often was dropped.

PRICES OF LAND — If, in the sale of a large acreage, the price is only a nominal sum, the chances are that grantor and grantee are closely related — usually parents granting property to their children or sons-in-law.

OATHS — The residence for persons in the oaths of allegiance in Book L may usually be determined from the residence of the justice who compiled the list. This assumption would not always be true, but would be accurate most of the time. Several of the lists were somehow recorded twice and the spelling of the same name often differs from the other list — at least in the extant typed copy.

WIDOW'S DOWER — Widows were entitled to one-third of the estate or dower in the Law of Intestates.

ALIENS — It should be noted that an unnaturalized alien could not, under provincial law, grant land. If a man, therefore, conveyed land in his name, one may assume he had either sworn allegiance to the King of England or was a natural-born subject of the king.

LATE OF — When the term "late of" is used, it is this compiler's observation that it could mean that the last known owner is (1.) deceased, or (2.) departed and the new owner's residence is unknown. In the case of unknown owners, it would say "now or late of" or "formerly of". "Now or late" would presume uncertainty, while "formerly of" would be more definite that there is a new owner, but the new owner is not known by the person writing the deed.

PROPERTY TRANSFERS — VARIOUS TYPES OF PROPERTY TRANSFER USED IN THIS PERIOD ARE SHOWN. THE STYLE USED IN EACH ABSTRACT AND FULL TERM FOR EACH ARE AS FOLLOWS:

ASSIGNED — (Assignor) has granted, bargained, sold, assigned, and set over by these presents and doth grant, bargain, sell, assign and set over to (assignee)

RELEASE — (Grantor) released and confirmed and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, alien, release and confirm into said (grantee).

ENFEOFFMENT — (Grantor) hath granted, bargained, sold, aliened, enfeoffed and confirmed and by these presents do grant, bargain, sell, alien, enfeoff and confirm to (grantee).

GRANT — (Grantor) doth grant, bargain and sell to (grantee).

QUIT CLAIM — (Grantor) has devised, released and forever quit claimed and by these presents devise release, and quit claim to (grantee).

ENFEOFF AND RELEASE — (Grantor) grant, bargain, sell, alien, enfeoff, release and confirm to (grantee).

MORTGAGE (Mortgagor) doth acquit, release and discharge to (mortgagee). He (mortgagor) hath granted, bargained, sold, aliened, released and confirmed and by these presents doth grant, bargain, sell, alien, release and confirm unto (mortgagee) description of property.

"... providing always nevertheless and it is the true intent and meaning of these presents: and the second parties that I the said (mortgagor) heirs, Executive and Administrators do and shall will and truly pay or cause to be paid unto (mortgagee) etc. the sum of (—) with lawful interest for same."

LOTS OF LANCASTER BOROUGH — James Hamilton, the proprietor of Lancaster Borough, stipulated in every lease of a lot that, within two years, a substantial house must be erected and that it must be at least 16 feet square and have a good chimney of brick or stone, laid in or built with lime or sand. In addition, each lot lessee must pay an annual rent of 7 shillings on May 1, forever to James Hamilton or to his heirs.

PETITION TO ERECT A NEW COUNTY OUT OF UPPER CHESTER COUNTY

At a Council held at Philadelphia, February 6th, 1729,

A petition of the inhabitants of the upper parts of Chester County was laid before the Board and read, setting forth, that by reason of their great distance from the county town, where Courts are held, offices are kept, and annual elections made, they lie under very great inconveniences, being obliged in the recovery of their just debts, to travel near one hundred miles to obtain a writ; that for want of a sufficient number of Justices, Constables and other officers, in those parts, no care is taken of the high-ways; Townships are not laid out, nor bridges built, when there is an apparent necessity for them; and further that for want of a Gaol there, several vagabonds and other dissolute people harbour among them, thinking themselves safe from justice in so remote a place; and therefore praying that a Division Line be made between the upper and lower part of said county, and the upper part thereof erected into a county, with all the immunities, rights and privileges which any other county of this Province does now enjoy.

GUIDE TO USE OF DEED BOOK

How to use the book and sequence of data

ABBREVIATIONS—see below

MAPS of colonial Lancaster County—see pages vi to ix

SEQUENCE of Data in Abstracts:

GRANTORS are always given first, together with their township or borough of residence.

GRANTEES are given last with place of residence.

PRICE in British Pound Sterling is shown. This is the real price. In mortgages, the penalty price is double the amount, when mortgage was not paid on time.

LOCATION—Number of acres or lot and street, followed by township or borough; next are the adjoining land or lot owners.

DEED CHAIN—Next paragraph is the deed chain and all relationships and names of prior owners, including method of releasing the land and dates, and residences if given. When more than one piece of land or lot is released, each is shown.

DATES AND WITNESSES—Next paragraph is date of deed, names or reference numbers of witnesses and then the justice reference & recording date.

OATHS—Final paragraphs include pertinent oaths and affirmations and dates so given. These oaths often are important as they are given at the time of recording and if the original grantor is deceased or gone, witnesses were required to verify signatures. Also, in mortgages, satisfaction is shown with date.

OTHER IMPORTANT DATA

General Index also includes all Witnesses and Justices.

WITNESSES—numbered witnesses are those who frequently witnessed deeds.

JUSTICES—these are Justices of the Peace, Judges and Burgesses authorized to administer oaths or affirmations.

OATHS AND AFFIRMATIONS—generally speaking, Quakers and perhaps other religious groups disapproved of giving Civil oaths, and, therefore, subscribed by affirmations.

Oaths of Allegiance

John Hubley, Recorder

The following oaths of allegiance and fidelity as ordered by an act of the Pennsylvania General Assembly 13 Jun 1777 were recorded in Deed Book L, following the index thereof and they are taken from a typewritten copy of the deed book, which, of course, means additional chance for error by whoever transcribed from the original deed book.

It will be noted that there are those subscribing to oaths from other counties. It is presumed that these persons were passing through Lancaster County during the Revolutionary War, and without proper identity, were required to subscribe their oaths. It will be noted that various justices in Lancaster County administered the oaths, and those interested in locating residence of certain subscribers of oaths might ascertain the residence of the particular justice involved as well as others taking oaths at the same time. By so doing, one may assume the possibility, at least, that the person lived in or near the same place.

It is also observed that several persons subscribed to oaths more than once. Several of the lists were inexplicably recorded twice and are so noted. Names are recorded or transcribed differently in many of the entries.

Since publication of the first printing of the Revised and Enlarged Lancaster County Deed Abstracts, we have discovered that another set of these oaths were published in the Pennsylvania Archives, Vol. XIII, Second Series. These lists show the townships for each list. While many of the lists are similar to those herein, some of the names differ, and they are less complete, ending in 1779. The Pennsylvania State Archivist cannot find an original copy of the list and does not know their origin. Oddly, also the Lancaster County oaths are not included in the reprint of oaths from other Pennsylvania counties in Pennsylvania Archives Series 2, Vol. III, persons who took the oath of allegiance to the state of Pennsylvania 1776-1794.

It is presumed further that the oaths were entered in this deed book some nine years after the last deed was recorded in 1769 in this ledger because of the empty pages, which apparently were used simply as a matter of convenience and a shortage of paper during the war. It may be for this reason that this important list has never been properly published, at least according to our investigation. Also page L405 was used in 1786 to record oaths of fidelity to the new Commonwealth. Page numbers above each group of lists are those in the deed book except we have broken the lists into several sections for indexing. The page number shown is the starting point for the list. When lists are a continuation of a long list the extension is shown.

Because the lists were recorded BEHIND the index of Book L, and also because they were not shown in the general grantor or grantee indexes, one may see why they have never heretofore been published in any of the statewide lists of oaths.

KEY — The letter "T" means the top half of the page for closer indexing. "B" means the lower part of the page. The number in parentheses after the page number is for indexing and breaks the long lists into several groups. Continuation of the same list is shown and the reader must look back or forward to see the subscribing to oath.
